Operations Manager / Executive Assistant

Since joining the City Hall Fellows team shortly after its founding in 2007, Daniel J. Liss has been responsible for operational and administrative support. Among his other duties, Mr. Liss administers the annual fellowship selection process and manages all of City Hall Fellows' back-office functions. Mr. Liss is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Amherst College, where he was awarded a prestigious research fellowship at the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington D.C. An avid traveler, Mr. Liss lived and worked in China after graduating college. Before joining City Hall Fellows, Mr. Liss worked in the financial services industry. As a member of the generation brought up to perceive a distinction between public service and government service, Mr. Liss embraces the mission of City Hall Fellows wholeheartedly and knows, firsthand, both the difficulties in and importance of attracting bright young people to serve in municipal government positions.
