

Rich Leimsider

Director, Strategy & Operations

A founding Board member, Mr. Leimsider brings a wealth of non-profit experience to City Hall Fellows, where he provides guidance on strategic development and operations matters, including fundraising, recruiting, marketing and business operations. Mr. Leimsider is currently a senior program associate at the Aspen Institute's Business and Society Program, where he manages the Beyond Grey Pinstripes program, the Aspen Institute's report card on business schools, and leads a number of other marketing, strategic planning, and development efforts. Mr. Leimsider joined the Aspen Institute after a stint as a social entrepreneur. He planned, launched, grew, and ultimately closed a new sort of civic association for Americans who had participated in full time service programs. Mr. Leimsider previously worked with Habitat for Humanity, City Year and Teach For America. In 1998-1999, Mr. Leimsider served as a New York City Urban Fellow in the Department of Homeless Services. Mr. Leimsider is a graduate of Harvard Business School and attended the University of Texas at Austin School of Social Work and Williams College.
